PLACEMAKING
What if we built our communities around places?

The Wyoming Association of Municipalities and the Wyoming Business Council (WBC) are offering a mini-course on placemaking. It will teach you the lighter, quicker, cheaper method to identify and recreate public spaces that residents and visitors will want to use!

With community-based participation at its center, an effective Placemaking process capitalizes on a local community's assets, inspiration, and potential, and it results in the creation of quality public spaces that contribute to people's health, happiness, and well-being.

The WBC offers micro grants to those communities who have completed Placemaking training.

Chamber Luncheon

Tuesday, March 20, 2018

THE PRIME RIB RESTAURANT & WINE CELLAR
1205 S. DOUGLAS HIGHWAY
11:30 A.M. - 1 P.M.

CLOSING THE SKILLS GAP SPEAKER: MARK MADSEN WYOMING WORKFORCE COUNCIL

"The reality is, we're just setting the building blocks for the future."

Mark Madsen is a business development director for Simon Contractors, and a member of both the Wyoming Workforce Council and the Career Readiness Council. He'll be presenting for us in March on the needs of our current economy, and what might be in store for us as we shift to value-added natural resource production, like carbon capture and wind energy.

"Doing what we do is not working. The plan is always do more of it and harder. But that is likely not the wisest solution."

Join us as we look at current job trends, the workforce council's top priorities, and generational roadblocks on the path to diversifying our economy.
