

Windows 8 – Disable UAC

1. Open up the Start screen, search for UAC, and you should see an option for User Account Control settings. If you don't, you'll need to change to search through your Settings first, but then you should see it.

2. Move the Slide all the way to the bottom/"Never Notify". Click "OK"

3. You will receive a prompt asking if you want "UserAccountControlSettings" to make changes to your computer, click "Yes".

4. You must reboot your machine before the changes can be applied.
